

Dear future students,

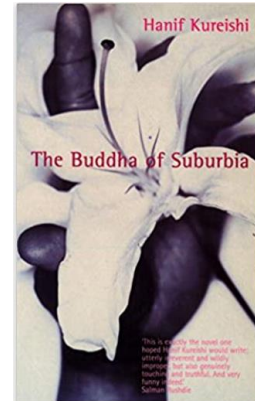

You have chosen to continue your LLCE curriculum next year. Congratulations!

While I am very impatient to meet you all, I need you to do some reading over the holidays as part of the study of our first complete work.

Here are the references to this novel:

The Buddha of Suburbia, Hanif Kureishi, 1990.

If possible, purchase the Faber & Faber editions: ISBN 0571200435

You may or not be shocked as you read this novel, but do not linger on the disturbing parts since they are not the main feature of interest of this work. There are, on the contrary, many more important topics discussed in this piece. Yet, your various reactions following your reading will be an enriching starting point to our year together.

Looking forward to seeing you next September.

Mrs Barbier.
